

O God, my LORD, keep me safe. I will run beneath your strength today. Everything good comes from you, my heavenly Father. I will no longer look to others or other things to keep me safe. In everything, you have become my portion. You are enough for me. In this moment, when I feel so weak, You make me glad. Even though death will come to me, everlasting life awaits for me in heaven, with You. I can have ultimate joy and complete salvation because of your Son, Jesus Christ. Fullness of joy is found in knowing You. Amen.
